K. B. Bell Killed On Italian Front

Word was received last week by Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bell that their son Kenneth, 27 years old, had been killed in action on May 26th.

Kenneth was born in Gleichen, was 27 years of age and had spent all of his life here. He attended school at Shamrock and after finishing there went to Mount Royal College, Calgary, where he graduated and became an excellent soft ball pitcher. At Camp Shilo with the 2nd 22nd Battery, some time before he went on active service, he had the reputation of being the star pitcher, having several thousand strikes in the camp.

Joining the active service on April 1st, 1943 he went overseas in September of that year and last November went to Africa. In December was promoted to corporal and was much sought after in Italy where he saw much fighting in the mountains.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bell; three sisters, Lucie of Calgary, Betsy, teaching at Greenwood, north of Edmonton; two brothers, Jack with the army at Canmore and George (Bunny) at home.

The service will be held Saturday morning at 10 a.m. at the Gleichen church. The funeral will be followed by a short service at the cemetery.

Services will be held at the Gleichen church on Monday morning at 10 a.m. and at the Gleichen cemetery on Tuesday morning at 10 a.m.

Scientific Research

SCIENTIFIC PROGRESS IS PLAYING AN important part in hastening the end of the war, because of the secrecy which is attached to it. However, some of the developments which have been of great advantage to the Allied cause, are now well known, and give us reason to have every confidence that this work will be successfully carried on as long as there is need for it. In Britain, the greatest importance which is attached to scientific and industrial research is demonstrated when one considers the Exchequer, Sir John Anderson, who recommended in his last budget that a central tax be voted for this purpose. In 1943, the Right Honorable Sir Oliver Lyttelton, British Minister of Production, stated that "thirty-five per cent. of British production is turning out weapons which did not exist except in the minds of their inventors when the war broke out. Others are being developed all the time."

Many Weapons Are Perfected

British scientists have perfected many new weapons, both for defensive and offensive action. One of the effects of these new weapons, which is now well known, is that all the allied nations are using form of radio detection is believed to have been the deciding factor against Germany in the Battle of Britain. There have been other inventions in the realm of detecting devices both for aircraft and for use in the navy. The famous "21" rocket gun, which has proved so effective against night bombers, is just one example. In the field of the Royal Canadian Air Force, Group Captain Whittle, invented the jet-propelled engine, which has opened up great possibilities in flying, both in war and in peace. While emphasis is now naturally placed on developments which are useful in wartime, much of the work done in Britain since the beginning of the war, will be of great value in later years.

Expansion In Research Here

In Canada, extensive scientific research is being carried on in connection with the war effort, and much valuable work has been done. Hon. James MacKinnon, Minister of Trade and Commerce, recently outlined before the Senate of Canada the work which is being undertaken here. The National Research Council has not yet had a staff four times as large as that employed in peacetime, and it operates nine stations in addition to its large central laboratory in Ottawa. Much of the research which is done is for the armed services and includes some interesting facts given out concerning projects which could be used in medical research, relating to such problems as night vision, fatigue, diet, and others. There has also been extensive work on secret instrumental photography and many other devices necessary to combat. It is apparent that the needs of war have given great impetus to scientific research, and it is to be hoped that this progress will continue when we are faced with the many problems which will arise in the post-war years.

English Law

Alien Is Protected Same As Citizen

Dr. Theodore Goldschmidt came to England in 1883 from Frankfurt. He qualified to practise in Britain in 1885, and set up business in Clapton. One day recently he was summoned to his consulting room for the purpose of trying to extract medical certificates from the doctor, stating that they were unfit for work. They fledged him so successfully that he succeeded, and Dr. Goldschmidt was prosecuted under the defence regulations.

But the magistrates not only declared his belief that the doctor gave the certificates, but also found that he had the use of the services of provocateurs—such as the spirit of English law. The case against the doctor was dismissed, and he was awarded 10 guinea costs.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—What is the new regulation covering the placing of price tags on certain items?

A.—Effective June 1, retailers of men's, women's and children's clothing, hats, shoes, stockings, perfume, etc., must put a price tag on every article displayed for sale, showing the manufacturer's name, the Canadian Trade Board license number or his registered trade mark, and the name of the manufacturer, or the garment printed, woven or attached to it.

The Golden Goose lives again in the Golden Land, where he spends most of the time just watching over his flock.

Before the war, Chinese gold miners thought of the golden geese as the little quacking "gold mines" have become almost a casualty of war and therefore doubly precious in China's patient eyes. If a woman is the problem, a man is the solution.

A smiling peasant woman in Chengtu, West China, received $200 for a single goose, for she lays an egg a day. Mrs. Wu, owner of the farm, said: "I hatch eggs in my wicker basket—dreams no printer has ever conceived one for a large, male adolescent major. It took the R.C.A.F. to do it." About two months ago when R.E.M. Fred Perkins of Edmonton, Alta., drilled the first CWAC class at the Miller's training centre and earned the nickname of "Mr. Purple," he was asked if he was a member of CWAC precision squad in Edmonton and he was not permitted to forget the "Ma" nickname. Saturday night the CWAC precision squad at the large public hall was delivered. Inside a sheet of tulips nestled a card from the 26 members of his squad. Below the picture of a motherly woman in a rocking chair, he read: "You're a dress in lavender and lace, but we still love your dear sergeant's face."

The Allied Air Offensive

RECENT ALLIED AIR ATTACKS on Germany have reached unprecedented proportions, and there is no doubt but that the results are devastating. In all democratic countries the people have high regard for military air power for its effectiveness in supporting their cause. To witness this great air offensive against Germany is fully justified. Allied authorities have frequently stated that only objectives of military importance are bombed, but it is inevitable that in raids of this extent, some damage must be done to the surrounding areas. It must be remembered that attacks against mining areas are not confined to the coal fields, but have frequently been made on Britain and will have a bearing of Hitler's conquest of Europe. Germany is at war, and what we expect of Hitler's lives and property of people living near military objectives will be endangered.

Nazis Started Mass Bombings

It should not be forgotten that the Nazis are the aggressors in this war, and that it was they who first planned mass air raids, and undertook to totally annihilate cities. They did not hesitate to attack Rotterdam, Warsaw, Stalingrad, and many other centres of population without mercy. They would do the same to us if they could. This caused great damage to many other British cities. When legitimate targets in Britain became too difficult to approach the Germans bombed cathedrals, hospitals, schools, and other purely civilian objectives, which were not intended to be bombed. To spite us, this, the Germans protest when Allied planes bomb cities which have important industries, and are heavily defended against air attack. It has been observed that it is to our credit that there has been discussion here as to the justice of mass air raids on Germany, but consideration of the facts leaves no doubt in this respect.

Germans Must Not Be Spared At the end of the last war the Germans sought to ease the difficulty of their situation by appealing for sympathy, and it is expected that they will again try this method of avoiding the full responsibility for their crimes against other nations. Churchill and other Allied leaders have frequently stated that there must be no relenting on our part, and that we must not allow the German people to stand in the way of victory and a lasting peace. This war has shown too clearly the true character of the German people, for us to have any confidence in their promises. We must let them experience some of the hardships and horrors which they have inflicted on other nations twice in less than twenty-five years. It is said that German military leaders realize that this war is lost, but that they are already planning means of conserving their resources for another attempt at world domination in the years to come. If this is to be avoided, and it must be, Germany's military power must be finally crushed now, without doubt or hesitation on our part.

Duke of Marlborough Get One On The French Ambassador

Marlborough, King Louis XIV's greatest-grandfather, the last Duke of Marlborough, had as his guest the French Ambassador, a cynical, disagreeable personage.

"The house, the tapestries, the pictures, the books, the wine, the food?" he quipped. "And the Raphael—that was the gift of the King of Prussia? Is there anything here that was not given?"

The Duke listened to the Frenchman with growing annoyance. Finally, when he could endure the rude questioning no longer, he said, "If your Excellency will come with me, I will show you one of the glories of Blenheim which was not given."

Taking the visitor outside, he pointed to the stone trophies and the effigy of Louis XIV which adorn the south front of the house. "These," he said, "were taken, not given, by John, Duke of Marlborough, from the gates of Tournai."

HIS MOVE

Once again the sergeant was going over his instructions to a rather timid recruit taking his first turn of duty as a sentry.

"Understand this!" he snapped.

"I understand nothing," you snapped."

"Yes, sergeant," replied the recruit, speaking firmly for once, "and if anything shoots, I move!"

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Can my hairdresser raise the prices?

A.—No. The prices charged for services have been the same since January 1, 1941.

Q.—We have been buying chickens from the same hatchery for years. Can they raise their prices now?

A.—Under Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulations there is no limit to the price of chickens.

Q.—How much notice must I give my landlord when I wish to move?

A.—If there is no lease you must give one clear month's notice if you pay your rent by the month and one clear week if you pay by the week.

Q.—Has the maple syrup ration been increased?

A.—Maple syrup may be purchased on the one coupon for forty-four fluid ounces until May 31.

Q.—How many cups of tea can I buy at a time?

A.—Under the wartime tea control regulations there is no limit to the amount of tea you can buy at a time.

Q.—Are we allowed to tear out our own ration coupons in a store, or must we give the book to the clerk to tear out the coupons for us?

A.—This is a question that is often asked. You do not have to give the book to the clerk. You may tear out the ration coupons yourself, provided you do it in the store and the manager of the store or the clerk you are dealing with.

Please send your questions or pamphlets for your guidance.

GARDEN NOTES

Seed Supplies Sufficient

While seed supplies will not be too plentiful, gardeners are confident that there will be sufficient to go round. Before the war, seeds of most vegetables were imported from every part of the world. Most of the old regular supplies are now out, and United States sources must cover practically all of our garden seed supplies.

A gardener can grow his own garden fresh vegetables for the first time in years. They came from the Garden of Eden right at the door. They were among the first things tasted when grown in their own gardens. Growing quickly, and keeping well, the vegetables are full of natural sugars and the vitamin content is especially high.

Spacing the Rows

After the soil is worked up into rows, the distance between which may be planted. These may go in rows from 12 inches apart and 12 inches apart, or 18 inches apart, the mature plants.

Carrots, lettuce, beets, parsnips, etc., can be planted in rows, 12 inches apart, beans, tomatoes, corn and pole beans, 18 to 24 inches.

If we are lucky enough to have a team of horses for cultivating, of course there will be more space, and two to four feet between the rows, and the plants will be better because it will be very much nearer, but we also make cultivation easier; the rows are straight and all plantings done along a string. This planted we know exactly where to pull weeds, and it will be safe and easy to cultivate even before plants have started to sprout.

Peas and beans are planted close together, scattering seeds far and wide. As the seeds are not easily shed from the tough pods, a head may be blown off the prairie for a whole winter, dropping a few seeds at intervals for many miles.

Custard Maple Flowers

Through plant breeding and natural selection, flowers have been developed which are more attractive than ever. There are some which prefer darkish corners. There are stems, nice, etc., which are good for hanging in the living air, and hard to believe perhaps, there are things like long-petaled petals, which are very attractive.

There are little, sharp-like alysium and dwarf marigolds and lobelias specially bred to fit along the front edges of flower beds. To the wall, where there are tall hollyhocks, castor beans, ornamental sunflowers, and other giants which will make background and screen fences.

Two British Women Serve Tea Right

Up On The Front Line In Italy

Right up near the Fifth Army front in Italy in a little Y.M.C.A. van, two British girls are serving tea! As they salute to the front-line military police salute them and wave them through traffic jams, Canadian Y.M.C.A. headquarters learned.

One of the girls is Mrs. Dorothy Brocklehurst, wife of Col. Sir Philip Brocklehurst, Cheshire, and her co-worker, Mrs. de la Pole Holland. Both are getting battle-trained for serving tea to courageous British troops who have agreed to keep an eye on the battle-darkened sky at the same time.

Lady Brocklehurst was the first Y.M.C.A. woman in Italy. She gate-crashed into Sicily and there helped herself to a German radio van in Catania.

It is in this van that she has poured more than 1,200 cups of tea. The van follows the British front line on the Italian front and has not been stopped, and has not been adopted by a division and given the right to carry the divisional signs.

Lady Brocklehurst has green wristbands on her wrists. She stocks rolled down ankle socks, is almost as well known as a general.

I think they would let us through the German lines to get a cup of tea, and save us from being captured. And will like anything to get an extra cup. They steal your tin mugs but come up smiling. They thrive on action—and tea—and it is a joy to serve them."

Classified List Of Plant Life In Manitoba Is Prepared

Among the different lines of research carried on at the University of Manitoba, that in the field of Botany, and Mrs. M. E. Webster, assistant professor of Botany, has produced an impressive, classified list of all plant life in Manitoba. He names 1,400 flowers and ferns.

This is the first list of all plant life in Manitoba, and the author has written a short history of the plant life, characteristics of each plant, etc.

Professor Lowe's list is full of important scientific names, but the common names are also given, and the habitat of each plant, in one or other of the five vegetation regions of the province, each with its own characteristics of the plant life.

Wild flowers in the woods and on the prairie in the springtime, but those who pride themselves on the number of wild flowers they can identify, may be interested to know that the late Norman Criddle, former president of the Royal Manitoba Horticultural Society, has collected 400 in ten miles of his home in western Manitoba.

Professor Lowe's work is a creditable type of research with definite educational value. — Winnipeg Free Press.

A Main Course Without Meat

How is the "meat situation" at your house? We must not forget that rationing and shortage can never be used as an excuse for failing to measure up to the family's food requirements.

Meats are becoming scarce, therefore, the vegetables and dessert are planned to round out a meal which is characteristic from the main course.

We have come to think that the meat must be the item of chief interest for every meal, but we have found that this is not true. The vegetables, rich in protein, are dried beans and peas, well-balanced menu as they provide an important part of the protein needed by everyone every day.

Proteins are required for the growth and repair of the human body. Proteins are not alike, and in general, protein made from animal sources is more expensive than from vegetable—milk, eggs, cheese, etc., are high in protein.

The vegetable-rich protein, dried beans and peas, will have achieved a protein value that will worthily substitute for the meat of the main course. Here's a recipe that will surely satisfy the meat-eating member of the family.

Baked LIMAS

2½ cups dried lima beans
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped onion
5 tablespoons chopped green beans
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper

Wash beans, cover with cold water, and let stand overnight. Add salt, cook tender and drain. Cook celery in small amount of boiling water till tender. Cook the onion and green pepper in the butter until browned. Add the beans, green beans, and gravy. Turn into greased dish and bake for ½ hour in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Will serve eight.

CANADIAN INDIANS' CONTRIBUTION TO THE WAR EFFORT

Indians in many arts of Canada, and many of them from very meagre incomes, are making commendable contributions to the Government's war effort. According to information released by the Indian Affairs Branch of the Department of Mines and Resources, contributions of revenue at Ottawa total nearly $25,000. Purchases of Victory Bonds and war savings certificates are well maintained among all Indians and numerous outright donations marked for "the war effort" have been reported.

The war agencies, the Canadian Council of Indian Agencies, the Canadian Red Cross, the Canadian War Relief Organization, and overseas war relief organizations are favored by Indians in the west.

Contributions made to military funds show that the Red Cross has benefited to the extent of $10,259, of which the Six Nations Band at Brantford contributed $5,200 and the Blackfoot Band of Alberta, $3,050.

Other war organizations to which contributions have been made are the Canadian War Relief Fund, $1,000; War for Britain Fund, $2,510.31; Canadian Aid to Russia, $610.84; London Orphans Fund, $432.50; Queens Canadian Fund, $650; British War Veterans Fund, $300; Salvation Army, $100; and the Catholic Refugee Children, $60.

Purchases of war savings certificates have so far reached $5,211 and outright gifts to the war effort total $3,000.

Chief among the bands in the west are the Kitigan Band of British Columbia donated $100 and earmarked for the British War Effort.

Funds for these various contributions come from many sources. In some cases it represents interest earned on funds held in trust for them, in other cases it is the result of initiative and hard work on the part of the Indians. Concerts, bingo parties, bazaars, rodeos, sports days and picnics, chicken suppers, box and pie socials, raffles, and similar activities, and sales of cast off, hay and wood were the media for raising funds for these purposes.

Some of the proceeds were used to send parcels and cigarettes to the 2,388 Indians in the armed services but the greater part went to organize funds.

Money contributions forwarded through Ottawa do not by any means represent the full effort of the Indians. Numerous incidents are reported in Indian Agency news releases and effective action is needed to meet local emergencies. In one case in British Columbia an air force building was destroyed and a considerable quantity of personal effects of the air force lost. Indians in the area have immediately organized a relief drive and over $600 was raised and presented to the airmen to help defray the cost of replacing their lost arts.

Many of the more northern bands, where the chief item of exchange is the fur pelt, make frequent gifts of pelts which fare sold and the proceeds turned over to selected war agencies. In some instances we have also aided in various ways, drives with singular success and the women and girls have prepared thousands of articles of clothing and other necessities for the Red Cross and other war relief organizations.

ANNUAL MEETING FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

While holding military might essential to the victory of allied nations against the Hitlerites, Christians claim of injustice and intolerance. The Christian Science Board of Directors told the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, that "the world is essentially a spiritual gift" to be utilized only through spiritual understanding and attainment."

Before an audience of several thousand Christian Scientists essentially local in character due to wartime restrictions upon transportation, the directors cited the universal determination to win the peace as advance evidence of a world wide desire for justice. Victory under arms will not suffice to guarantee freedom to mankind."

Freedom from want and fear, freedom in worship and speech, the directions still constitute much more than a political slogan or governmental ideology. "For our great Way-shower, Christ Jesus, proclaimed centuries ago that freedom accords with God and man; furthermore he said, 'I came that you may have life, and that you may have it more abundantly.'"

The Directors' statement highlighted the results of the third annual meeting of The Mother Church held during the winter months which cited favorable conditions of health and activity, and unprecedented demands for the works of Mary Baker Eddy and The Christian Science Monitor.

Said Mrs. Eddy's works were now being read by twice the volume of the last pre-war year, indicating the increasing desire for spiritual progress in the wartime emergency.

Announcement was made by Dr. Ernest W. Bowes, the new Paul Stark Senior of Cambridge, Mass., as President of the Mother Church for the ensuing year, succeeding Mrs. Daisette D. S. McKenzie.

Paul Stark Seelye, Associate Editor of Christian Science periodicals, other than The Christian Science Monitor, a native of Poughkeepsie, New York, became a member of the Mother Church in 1909, while a student at Harvard Law School. He holds the LL.B. A.B. from Princeton and LL.B. from Harvard.

Tracing the growth of the Christian Science movement from the time of the erection of the original church of the Mother Church 50 years ago, Dr. Bowes said that in 1940, the new president revealed an increase in the number of branch Christian Science churches from less than 100 half century ago, located in two countries, to 2,500 today located in 54 countries.

Despite the emergency rationing of paper and other wartime restrictions, the Trustees of The Christian Science Publishing Society revealed the largest circulation ever recorded by the leading Christian Science periodicals and Bible sales were twice those of 1942. This progress was made possible under paper allotments which have had a heavy weight of paper with no reduction in reading matter, excepting that of The Christian Science Monitor.

In the report of the Manager of Committees on Publication, a warning was sounded that as public thought becomes more socially-minded, a greater demand of legislative bills providing for sickness or dis-

Ever Put Hogs To Pasture?

Good pasture provides many conditions that prevail in pens and yards and these are not costly. Good pasture is one on which there is good, green growth and a few feet is actually provided. Turning hogs onto barren ground is a waste of time, money and effort. Hogs will root, root, and RUN OFF weight instead of putting it on.

Pasture should be used by hogs two years in succession . . . and sufficient . . . so that the hogs will not be in danger of blistering or scalding. Incidentally, if such a condition arises, use a poultice and rub it on the hog's back—will relieve the ailment.

Grain, of course, will constitute the bulk of the diet of the hog ALONE. It is costly to feed. Fifty pounds of SHUR-GAIN HOG CONCENTRATE added to your grains . . . FIVE HUNDRED POUNDS OF GRAIN. This is an average diet and costs less than THREE DOLLARS PER HOG.

Ash your SHUR-GAIN HOG CONCENTRATE about once a week . . . start NOW to save on feeding costs and make high profits!

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY

The Ear Ring

By RUTH GILBERT COCHRAN
McClure Newspaper Syndicate

July's noonday sun blazed the tar paper roofs of Vanduzen, but a breeze tempered by the snows atop Mount Wilson, made Mama Terry's porch a cool and restful oasis in the little Colorado mining town. Mama's boarders had settled there as usual to work at the mine, but the town gossip before strutting back to the ore sheds. Pipes were lighted, and a dozen pairs of booted feet rested on the wooden railing, but today's excitement of course was something lacking in richness because of the presence of a stranger.

He was pleasant enough, this shrewd-eyed chap whose hat brim bristled with trout flies. And he added his own excitement to the most unquiet hours for fishing in Wilson Creek. But he was a city fellow, an outsider, so conversation languished until Mama and her sister Kit settling themselves in two chairs on the porch.

"There's Jeff Tubbs, like a leon."

Mama remarked, "clementin' his new garage door again. Why didn't he tell him to slow down, Doc?"

"I ain't exchanged words with Jeff since last week," Doc Smith winked. "I'd do try to commiserate with him a mite after he had that dust-up with a thief the night before Lena left him." And when that old timer who'd attended my mother's wedding attested to my own affairs. In fact, the whole town heard him requestin' me to do so."

His hearty laugh, and Mama's sister pricked up her ears. "Things must be good here happenin' since Lena was last summer," she smiled. "You don't mean to tell me that that young girl I saw in Jeff Tubbs' store was his wife!"

"His wife? Heck, no!" the landlady responded vigorously.

"Things must be good here happenin' since Lena was last summer," she smiled. "You don't mean to tell me that that young girl I saw in Jeff Tubbs' store was his wife!"

"Sweet, too," Mama agreed. "She was the widder Ames' daughter, he that Jeff married ten years ago. I often wondered how Lena could stand the way Jeff treated her after he did me. I'm glad Lena's been laid low, drove a deep breath, and then regaled boarders, to whom the tragic saga of Tubbs was only too familiar, drifted off to their afternoon nap.

Nervine according to directions for him in general serves to steep lessens nervous conditions. It also eases fear, also to help headache and insomnia. It's a tonic. did as ordered. Then, passing through the house on his way out, he saw this little sash on the floor, and slipped it into his pocket. The rest was pie for him.

He squinted skyward. "Clouding up a bit," he observed. "Guess I'll get my gun and try my luck. Might as well considerin' a little pleasure with business."

Queues In England

People Line Up Only When There

Queues are comparatively rare in England except outside theatres, picture houses and restaurants, writes Oswald Dutch in the Montreal Star. It is true that, especially on Saturday evenings, one gets quite a long queue for films, either because it is an hour at which the majority of people are free to do their weekly shopping or because something special has attracted their attention. When the first consignment of oranges came from South Africa, a queue appeared in the shop, for instance, there were immense queues because war work though they can choose to do it in Canada if they wish. Of course, it is not the same as in America where there are twenty-one or more, if she married. Jeff kept the legacy in an old cash box in his safe, claiming it didn't trust my bank. And worked the girl like a slave, driving off every evening to the mine. When Jeff comes up again one feller that didn't care eat some pie. Well, he laughs at sourpusses, they say, and when Frank Stevens appeared in the store, Jeff comes up again one feller that didn't care eat some pie. No body would dream of doing so.

Are Greatly Changed

Views Of Soviet Russia Broadened

In Last Few Years

There is still too much tenderness in some directions to regard Russia as winning. We were told this largely to us by the men that we met. If people do not realize how greatly changed the Russia of today from the Russia of 25 years ago. Mr. Churchill reminded us of this when he said that the changes that have taken place in Soviet Russia will be much to say about the dinner table, the New York Times points out, referring to the role which large numbers of people have taken in the newer forms of transport will crowd refrigerator cars on the rails or bulk shipments from the sea, land and air. There is an opportunity to increase the shipments of perishable farm products by air, as well as fruits and vegetables from countries far afield.

Miss Maxxe recalled one boy whom she met in Moscow who had been willing to go to the Navy. "What's Navy?" he asked.

"Well, Canadian Navy. If you don't mind me being frank, I just couldn't go home and work with a lot of Linseys," he confessed.

Evacuated Children

British Government Prefers That The Return Is Called Until

The War Is Over

British Government policy prefers children evacuated to Canada through the Children's Overseas Reception Board to remain here until they become eligible for military service, war or other national emergency or apprenticeship, Miss Marjorie Maxxe, chairman of the board and vice-chairman of the Women's Voluntary Services said in an interview in Ottawa.

Miss Maxxe has just completed a week's tour of every province of Canada during which she interviewed children brought out to this country by the Canadian government, and conversed with their mothers.

"The children are in A-1 physical condition and so full of life and enthusiasm. I hope Canadians realize how thankful we are over there."

HAD CLEVER ANSWER

We can across a lad who is going to get along all right in this world, written by someone because of an inordinate number of freckles. His mother, however, had a different opinion.

"They aren't freckles. They're weevils. We've been goin' swimmin' most every day, and them spots is just my iron constitution runnin' me!"

Exceptional Work

British Women Take Over The Hostet Job In War Work

In the return hour of a fuel gas factory somewhere in England, a group of women had completed the first year in the hottest job attempted by women in Britain states, a war, a despatch from Britain states.

For 42 hours a week the women work in a vertical shift, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., to keep the plant running, and the workers are given time off to eat grain and have a hot meal. It is their job to feed coal into the furnaces where it burns in an atmosphere with less oxygen in it than ordinary air, and gives off illuminating gas which is stored in vast bell-shaped containers.

There are three shifts in the return hour, the early shift clocking in at dawn. Between 9 and 10 comes the second shift, and between 11 and another four hours of meal, and the women take their right shifts along with the men.

These women stokers average two years each, and receive first-class pay. The women are paid as much as the men, and, as far as pay is concerned, the men are paid by the strenuous jobs.

Several privileges come to the gas girls. They get a special allowance of tea and biscuits, though not the tea and biscuits. The men, mostly factory workers and, what is one of the best of all compensations, they receive their soap free of coupon.

A Matter Of Loyalty

Without That It Is Impossible To Do Canada The Best Service

Loyalty to British connection and to British ideas need not diminish one's loyalty to Canada. On the other hand, without that loyalty it is impossible to do Canada the best service. Canadian high ideals are inseparably linked with those of the Empire. Yet as in the case of other loyalties, loyalty to the Empire involves readiness to accept the Empire's commands to make such sacrifices as may be called for by citizenship in the Empire. It is, in fact, an essential element in loyalty to Canada.—Orillia Packet-Times.
